

MeetChinaBiz New York Chapter Presents China Finance Center A New Concept of US China Business Development

ABOUT PORTER BIBB

Porter Bibb is Managing Partner of MediaTech Capital Partners and has more than 40 years experiences as a senior investment banker specializing in media, entertainment, and technology ventures.

For over 15 years, he was principal, senior partner and director of investment banking at Ladenburg Thalmann & Co. Today, he is managing partner of MediaTech Capital Partners, a private merchant bank specializing in media and technology investments worldwide. Formerly a White House Correspondent for Newsweek magazine, he was also the first Publisher of Rolling Stone Magazine and former Corporate Development Director for The New York Times Company. He has spent more than 30 years doing business in China and helped finance and build the first commercial film animation studio in the PRC in 1981. He is currently raising capital for a new all-sports television network in China and will discuss his newest venture, a permanent conference and trade exposition site to open in Rockefeller Center later this year.

Mr. Bibb is also an Author of several best-selling books, including the definitive biography of Ted Turner (Random House, 1995). He is currently researching a biography of Fidel Castro and he produced numerous documentary films for both theatrical release and television, including Gimme Shelter with the Rolling Stones; 1974 America's Cup (Two-hour primetime special, CBS-TV); and Salesman, (Cannes and Venice Festival winning feature length documentary with Albert & David Maysles). Mr. Bibb is a frequent guest on PBS, NPR, Fox News, CNN, CNBC, MSNBC and other broadcast news networks.
